As we encounter life's challenges and opportunities, we can become depressed, anxious, or even bitter. Although we might think we've had enough struggles in life, God is always holding out His hand, beckoning us to come a little closer. When we rely on Him, we have the courage to face the challenges we face. Here's a way to find your purpose in life. Find out what God is calling you to. He's not asking you to make a decision and then leave it there. You might begin by asking Him to show you what's next for your life. Ask His Holy Spirit to speak to you through meditation or through reading His word. Speak to Him as you would a friend. After you've decided to pursue your purpose, commit to begin following His plan. Start by doing what brings Him honor and begins to change you into the person He intended you to be. For example, instead of getting angry at your brother over the little thing that really doesn't matter, turn the other cheek and grow closer to him. Find something in your life that you've been stuck in. Change that. Do You Have the Courage to Facing the Challenges You Face? The most important thing is to know that you have what it takes to face the challenges you face, and to do what's necessary to make it happen. Through prayer f678ea9f9e
